CHAS. SANDISON in a letter says he has two mining claims of his own and is interested in six others. The Edmonton mine, one of his own claims, he can bond for $30,000, five per cent down, and thinks he could sell it outright for cash $20,000. The other six mines are under the snowdrifts up the mountain and cannot be worked at till next spring. He thinks he will do more work on his own claim, show it to best advantage and sell for cash. If he does this he will be home for winter.

T. A. STEPHEN in a letter says Rossland and its busy life is very different to Edmonton. He does not recommend investments in mines unless the investor is on the spot, and even then it is much of a gamble. Real estate on Rossland's main street is what he recommends. On the day of writing he sold a house and lot on Main street for $5,000, which is rented at $200 per month, or $2,400 a year. He thinks there will be a big rush in there next spring accompanied by a great boom in real estate.

W. GORDON CUMMING was a volunteer officer in the operations against slave traders in central Africa last year, and we have just received one of the official copies of correspondence and dispatches from the commissioner, as presented to both Imperial houses of parliament by the order of the Queen. Cumming had command of 10 sikhis and 60 native regulars, and in connection with his actions with these few men his name appears on nearly every page of the report. In one place he is pursuing the enemy "in a most vigorous manner." Then he went with the Commander to search for the chief Mlazi but they could not find him. This Mlazi was afterwards caught, tried, and executed on Dec. 4th. On 22nd, September Mr. Cumming was sent from Fort Lister to Rivi Anderson in command of 68 rifles, sikhs and natives, and one volunteer officer, as an advance party to protect the southwest of Mlanje from marauders, and clear the way for the advance of the main body of the army. In the expedition against Mponda Mr. Cumming had charge of the left column consisting of 94 men. Although there was no fighting in that expedition it crushed the slave trade. 379 slaves were released and taken to Freetown where they now form a free settlement. "Most of those slaves had been raided or purchased during the last three years, and several only quite recently." 112 guns and 270 tons of powder were captured in addition to chief Mponda and eleven of his headmen. This was accomplished by Lieut. Cospe Smith, and Mr. Cumming with 180 rifles, including 40 sikhs. During the whole campaign they released 888 slaves.

PRAIRIE FIRE CASES.

On Tuesday before Inspector Snyder Hans Anderson of Stony Plain was fined $10 and costs for having started a prairie fire and allowed it to run.

At South Edmonton on the same day before Col. Jarvis George Leggins section foreman at Leduc was charged with having kindled a fire and allowed it to escape. In defence it was claimed that he had all proper appliances at hand when he started the fire, as regards men and water. The maximum fine for the offence is $50. Prisoner was fined $40 and costs $9.85.

At the same court George Leggins was also charged with having started a fire by his agents. The defence was that the prosecution had not proved agency. The magistrates at once ordered the arrest of the agent as a principal, and it was proved that he had started the fire. Fined $25 and costs. The fine would have been heavier but for youth of the prisoner, and the fact that he was acting under orders from another.

A third case in which prisoner pleaded guilty to starting a fire resulted in a fine of $10 and costs.

Next Friday before Inspector Snyder at the Barracks Gottlieb Derchack of Stony Plain, and Malcolm McKirley are summoned to appear on charges of starting prairie fires, and several other cases are pending.

LAST DAYS OF THE SESSION.

In the debate on the report of the committee on agriculture and colonization on Sept. 30th, following Mr. Davin Mr. Oliver said: Mr. Speaker, I am very sorry that I should be dragged in as a party to taking up the time of the House at this stage of the session, that I should assist the hon. gentleman in what he has been so busy at since he came here. It is really too bad that when he has talked to this House, and at this House, and to empty benches of this House, as often and as long as he has, that he should not be content with that but must read extracts from newspapers and apply his remarks to me in order to compel me to take up some of the time of the House, and thus make me guilty with him. I therefore apologize to the House for being put in that position, and I hope hon. members will justify me on the ground that it is not my fault but my misfortune—my misfortune, I suppose, to have the hon. gentleman as a colleague in the representation of the Northwest, as it is a misfortune to the Northwest to be represented by the hon. gentleman. As to the opinions of the newspaper, he says that the newspaper is bitterly opposed to him. I can only say that that is evidence of sound judgment on the part of the newspaper, a statement which will be accepted by gentlemen on both sides of the House. The newspaper understands to what extent he has represented public opinion in the Northwest Territories in the past. If the fact that that newspaper differs from me to a slight extent is a proof that I have not represented the opinions of the Northwest, the fact that it differs from him very widely is surely proof that he still more than myself does not represent the opinions of the Northwest. However, in one way I am very thankful to the hon. gentleman for bringing this question up at the present time as it gives me an opportunity of removing any misapprehension that might exist as to the remarks I made in the House on the occasion referred to. If my remarks were interpreted as being in opposition to the government assisting the creamery industry of the Northwest Territories, I certainly failed utterly to express my idea. I think the first words I said when I spoke on that occasion should have set that matter right, as I then declared, if my memory is correct, that I supported assistance to the creamery industry in the Northwest, but that I did not agree with the particular form of the assistance proposed by the hon. gentleman. His scheme was one, to my mind at least, that would not suit the part of the country that I represented, and, being in duty bound to represent the interests of that part of the country, I was bound to oppose the proposition. I do not claim to represent Western Assiniboia; I do not claim to represent any part of the Territories but Alberta. I do claim to represent Alberta, and I deny to any other hon. gentleman the right to speak for that section of the country. Now, if hon. gentlemen will kindly allow me to proceed if they will allow me to exercise the rights I have in this House, I will explain exactly where I stand on this question of assistance to creameries. The hon. gentleman (Mr. Davin) made a proposition that would have absorbed $20,000 of the money of this country in establishing new industries throughout the country. I say, from the knowledge I possess, that the industries have been established in the Territories that require a share of that assistance; and I am here to declare that principle and to maintain it in opposition to the "Ha, ha," and lack of knowledge of gentlemen opposite. I maintain that where enterprising men have put their money into a creamery industry, and where owing to the circumstances of the country, that industry has not been profitable, the enterprise that they have shown entitle them to more consideration at the hands of the government than should be shown to gentlemen who have shown no enterprise except to come here and ask for favors. I do not agree to a proposition whereby $20,000 of the money of this country shall be taken to erect buildings and establish creamery industries here and there in the Territories, and ignore other men who have spent more than that $20,000 of their own money in establishing these industries. I say that where gentlemen have put their money into these enterprises, if the enterprise has failed, it is owing to no fault of their own, but owing to the conditions of the country being unfavorable at the moment, and owing to the scarcity of patronage for these creameries. Therefore in opposing the hon. member's motion, I ask for assistance to these enterprises already established, so that they may be able to tide over the present difficulty until there is sufficient patronage in the country to keep them going. That is what I ask, and that is what I understand the minister of agriculture has agreed to. It is in support of that proposition that I oppose the hon. gentleman's motion, that would have prevented that, and would have given all the money that we propose to vote to another section of the country, and ignore that particular part of the country. In the district I represent there are six or seven creameries in operation, and there is a larger investment in the creamery industry than in all the rest of the Territories put together. It is not an experiment there; to the same extent as it is in other places; people know what they are talking about in that country; they know where the shoe pinches them; and when I speak, I speak from knowledge, knowledge that we have acquired at our own expense. The hon. gentleman proposes that 400 cows shall be necessary to starting a creamery. Let me tell the hon. gentleman and the House that certain of these creameries have been started on a patronage of less than 400 cows, with 250, or 200 cows. In very few cases has it been possible to get 400 cows tributary to one creamery, or to one separating station. A scheme that requires the patronage of 400 cows before assistance will be given to a creamery, is one that is, to a large extent, impracticable in the part of the country where I live, as proved by experience, and is a scheme that will not be effectual. In reply to the charge that I have in anyway opposed assistance to creameries in the Northwest Territories, I want to say that I have not done so, but I have demanded a fair division of the assistance that is to be offered by this government to those creameries, an assistance which we expect from the government, and which I believe will be received.

On October 1st, speaking on the additional vote of $16,176 for Indian schools, in Manitoba and Northwest Territories, Mr. Oliver said: I wish to draw the attention of the House to the difference between moneys voted for purposes "in" the Northwest Territories and for purposes "for" the Northwest Territories. In this House from time to time, complaint is made that there is a large amount expended for the Northwest Territories, a great deal more than this country can afford. It is necessary for the representatives of the Territories to come before this House, from time to time and make a claim on behalf of the people for certain expenditures for the development of those Territories and if they are met, in making those claims, by the assertion that already vast expenditure has been made in the Territories, then the claims they make on behalf of the improvements they require must be made at a certain disadvantage. What I want to point out is that this particular expenditure is not expenditure in any way connected with the people of the Northwest. It is not an expenditure connected with the development of the Territories. It is not an expenditure for which the people of the Territories have asked, but it is an expenditure in pursuance of a certain policy settled upon by the government of the Dominion, on ideas which they have derived from other sources than the people of the Territories. When this expenditure is swollen to the amount that it is apparently swollen to now, it is certainly bound to have a detrimental effect on the interests of the people of the Territories, in the minds of members of this House. We recognize the principle of dealing justly with the Indians of the country. We have no complaint against the government for dealing justly with those Indians. The treaties that had been made should certainly be fulfilled, not only in the letter but in the spirit, generously and intelligently. But over and above all that is contained in the treaties with those Indians, in pursuance of a certain policy of the government, expenditure has been undertaken with regard to them, which has come to alarming proportions, such proportions as are detrimental to the welfare of the people of the Territories when asking money for ordinary public improvements to which the Territories are entitled as well as the other provinces, and which are necessary in the Territories to a greater extent than in the other provinces. I allude to the expenditure on the education of the Indians. I find in the main estimates a vote of $285,000 for the education of Indian children in Manitoba and the Northwest Territories during the year, and in addition I find this sum of $16,000 for the same purpose. I find that this amount shows an increase in the main estimates over the amount expended last year, to the extent of $56,000. I say that when the amount expended on the education alone of the Indians of the Territories has reached this enormous sum, and when it is being increased to the extent of $56,000 a year, it is time for the people of the Territories, it seems to me, to put themselves right before the House by showing that this expenditure is none of their making and is for none of their benefit. They decline altogether to be charged with this expenditure as a part of the expenditure of this country for the benefit of the Territories. A short time ago, I laid before this House a statement of the requirements for the ordinary business of the government of the Territories, in the matter of public improvements and education. There seemed to be a feeling on the part of hon. members that I had a good deal of hardihood to claim on behalf of the people an increase over the amount appearing in the main estimates, of $242,000 for these purposes. But the total sum spent to carry on the government of the Territories, supply the needs of education and provide the necessary public works throughout the territory, is short of the amount we have now already voted in the main estimates for the education of the Indians of the territory by about $43,000. In other words, this parliament is spending on the education of the children of the Indians of the Territories $43,000 more money than it is expending in carrying on the government of the Territories and making the public works that are necessary for the development of the Territories, so as to improve their condition and make them what the people here are legislating to make them—a market for your manufacturers and a field for the operations of your merchants and your capitalists. This is the purpose for which, as I understand it, money is being voted for the Territories. That is why we ask you to supply money for the Northwest, and the amount of money that is now voted does not suffice for that end. I desire to call attention to the fact that in voting money, this parliament is voting on its own responsibility and for a purpose not related to the development of the Territories, and not in any sense chargeable to the Territories. We have not asked for the expenditure, and it is not in the line of the development of the country. I do not know that hon. members are aware as they should be, of the magnitude of the amount or the purpose for which this is voted. In answer to a question I asked in the House a short time ago, we were informed that the total number of pupils in the industrial schools in the Territory, which absorb the greater part of that money, was less than 1,000. Now, in the public schools of the Territories there are ten thousand pupils in attendance. Where you spend $275,000 in educating less than a thousand Indian children, you decline to spend more than $242,000 in educating ten thousand white children in the Territories, in providing public works and carrying on the business of the Territories. I wish the House to have a thorough understanding as to who is responsible for this vast expenditure, so that the people of the Northwest may not be charged with any part of it.
